DEEP DIVE • FUN FACTS & MODEL OUTCOMES

The Analytics Chamber

MODEL: 8,000-TRIAL MONTE CARLO
SOURCE: FPL SKILL ENGINE

FUN FACTS — COMPUTED FROM LIVE LEAGUE DATA

8 FINDINGS

FF-01
League squad value totals £2002.6m across 20 managers — average squad worth £100.13m.

FF-02
sakadeez (Drin Pacuku) fields the most valuable squad in the league at £100.8m.

FF-03
Gunner4Lyfe (Joshua Clarke) is sitting on the fattest bank: £4.9m in the reserve tank.

FF-04
Bruno Fernandes is the single most-owned asset in the league — 14/20 squads (that's 70%).

FF-05
60 players are owned by exactly ONE manager in the whole league — pure differentials.

FF-06
Arsenal supplies the most player-slots leaguewide: 45 total picks across all squads.

FF-07
9 of 20 managers (45%) fired their Triple Captain chip in the SAME gameweek — a historic pile-on.

FF-08
The Monte-Carlo captain model (8,000 simulated trials) rates Haaland's GW3 ceiling at a 10.5% chance of a 15+ point mega-haul.

EXPECTED OUTCOMES — TRIPLE CAPTAIN PROJECTIONS (CAPTAINCY SIMULATION MODEL)

⚠ EV = mean expected points from the 8,000-trial Monte Carlo captaincy simulation (fpl_simulation.py). Isak's figure is a raw PPG proxy — he fell outside the model's top-25 shortlist this run, so his number is not simulation-grade like Haaland's.
